Abstract

Independence and dependence are two term that appear in human presence and existence. Such independence relates with individual life and dependences concern with social life (engage in community). Individuals are those demand and appreciate such independence, meanwhile dependence will take places when we live in a social system, we can't emphasize our wishes to other individuals where such persons have their self-interests. Educators must make some efforts to realize a balance independence and dependences for their learners in attending to implemented educational process.

Keywords : learner, independence, dependence.
